

The map illustrates a residential area with a proposed development site highlighted in red. The site is situated on Plough Lane, between Hill End Road and the Loughran area. The map includes labels for several cottages: Wain Cottage, Beaufort, Pynesfield, Innisfree, Anzac Cottage, Tyderwen, Friston, and Loughran. The proposed development site is divided into several plots, with some plots outlined in green and others in blue and purple. The map also shows the layout of existing buildings and roads.

This map illustrates the layout of a residential area, likely a village or hamlet, within a parish. The central feature is 'PLOUGH LANE', which runs diagonally from the top right towards the bottom left. To the left of this lane, a road labeled 'HILL END ROAD' runs parallel to it. A large, irregularly shaped 'Pond' is situated to the left of Hill End Road. The map shows numerous individual cottages, many of which are numbered. The cottages are arranged in rows along the roads. Specific labels for cottages include 'White Heath Cottage', 'Yew Trees Althorne Cottage', 'Rosewood', 'Wain Cottage', 'Beaufort', 'Pynesfield', 'Minisfree', 'Arzee Cottage', 'Plough Cottage' (which is highlighted with a red outline), 'Tydenwen', 'Friston', and 'Loughran'. The map also shows several numbered plots: 1, 3, 4, 5, and 7. The overall layout suggests a traditional village plan with a central lane and surrounding residential plots.
