

An architectural elevation drawing of a house. The house features a gabled roof with horizontal siding. A chimney is located at the peak of the roof. The main wall is textured and contains a single window with a blue gradient. To the right, there is a section with a brick pattern and a sloped roof. A vertical pipe runs down the side of the house. The drawing is rendered in a clean, line-art style with selective color for the windows and roof sections.

A black and white line drawing of a house. The house has a gabled roof with a chimney on the left side. The chimney is made of stone and has a small window. The house is filled with a stippled pattern. To the right of the house, there is a tall, thin rectangular structure, possibly a chimney or a wall, and a small structure with a ramp or stairs.

An architectural elevation drawing of a two-story house. The house features a gabled roof with horizontal siding. The main walls are covered in a stippled texture. On the left side, there is a large four-pane window on the ground floor and a smaller two-pane window above it. To the right of this, there is a single tall narrow window on the ground floor and a two-pane window above it. A chimney is located on the right side of the main house. To the right of the main house is a separate brick structure with a corrugated metal roof, which appears to be a garage. A red dashed line is visible on the far left edge of the drawing.

An architectural elevation drawing of a two-story house. The house features a gabled roof with horizontal line shading. The main facade is composed of brickwork. On the left, there is a single-car garage with a brick base and vertical-slatted doors. To the right of the garage is a front entrance with a white door and a small arched porch. Further right is a large multi-paned window on the ground floor. The upper floor has a smaller window on the left and a larger multi-paned window on the right. A chimney is visible on the right side of the roof. A vertical dashed orange line is on the far right, and a solid black line is at the bottom.
