Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Planning Enforcement Officer's comment :

"I refer to my inspection of 4 Almond Avenue, West Drayton yesterday (23rd).

I can confirm that I found the property, notwithstanding I was unable to view rooms 4 and 5, to be being used as one property. Provided the number of occupants does not exceed six persons, it would be considered to be a house in multiple occupation under use class C4 of the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987 (as amended) and planning permission would not be required for this use.

With regards to the single storey side and rear extensions, whilst you were granted a certificate of proposed lawful development for the side extension and planning permission for the rear extension, these are two types of application and you were meant to substantially complete the side extension before commencing any works on the rear extension. According to our records, works commenced on the rear extension prior to the side extension being substantial completed and as such they have been built as one development, for which planning permission has not been granted.

I appreciate that this is a technical breach, but the previous applications were assessed under two separate and different elements of the planning system. The side extension was considered under the Town & Country Planning (General Permitted Development)(England) Order, which only looks at whether the proposed development meets the limitations and conditions of the order, not if it would comply with local and/or national policies, which was the criteria for the rear extension. "

In order to regularise this issue you can either submit a planning application for both the side and rear extension showing them as built, including the internal layout or remove the single storey side extension and complete the rear extension as approved. Please note, this email does not mean that if an application is submitted that it would be granted, only that it would be considered on its merits and with due regards to both local and national policies."

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?

- Yes
- No

Ownership Certificates and Agricultural Land Declaration

Certificates under Article 14 - Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 (as amended)

Please answer the following questions to determine which Certificate of Ownership you need to complete: A, B, C or D.

Is the applicant the sole owner of all the land to which this application relates; and has the applicant been the sole owner for more than 21 days?

- Yes
- No

Is any of the land to which the application relates part of an Agricultural Holding?

Yes

No

Certificate Of Ownership - Certificate A

I certify/The applicant certifies that on the day 21 days before the date of this application nobody except myself/ the applicant was the owner* of any part of the land or building to which the application relates, and that none of the land to which the application relates is, or is part of, an agricultural holding

* "owner" is a person with a freehold interest or leasehold interest with at least 7 years left to run.

 "agricultural holding" has the meaning given by reference to the definition of "agricultural tenant" in section 65(8) of the Act.

NOTE: You should sign Certificate B, C or D, as appropriate, if you are the sole owner of the land or building to which the application relates but the land is, or is part of, an agricultural holding.
