

Percentage of development compared to neighboring/similar properties.