

A circular cross-section of a lens. A yellow shaded region is on the left side, bounded by a curved line. Dashed lines radiate from the center of the lens. A horizontal line passes through the center, and a vertical line also passes through the center. A diagonal line is also shown.